

Made in the Shade

- (absorbing) Attracting and taking in another substance.
- (analysis) Separating something into its parts to examine it.
- (analyze) To separate something into its parts in order to examine them .
- (average) The number gotten by dividing the sum of two or more quantities by the number of quantities added.
- (carbon dioxide) A gas made up of carbon and oxygen with no color or smell.
- (census) An official count of all the people in a country, including other information such as their sex, age, and occupation.
- (crowns) The top parts of things.
- (data) Facts or figures studied in order to make a conclusion.
- (estimate) To make a general but careful guess about the size, quality, value, or cost of something.
- (mammals) Warm-blooded animals that have a backbone; Females have glands to produce milk for feeding their young.
- (natural resources) Things in nature that take care of a human need, such as oil.
- (radiation) The process of sending energy out in rays from atoms and molecules.
- (status) The state or condition of something.