

Let's Clear the Air

- (analyze) To separate something into its parts in order to examine them.
- (astronomers) Scientists that study the stars, planets, comets, etc.
- (average) The number determined by dividing the sum of two or more quantities by the number of quantities added.
- (data) Facts or figures studied in order to make a conclusion.
- (fire managers) People whose job it is to prevent or control wildland fires.
- (forest managers) Skilled individuals that take care of natural resources.
- (relationship) When two or more things are connected in some fashion.
- (sample) A part or piece that shows what the whole group or thing is like.
- (scale) A series of marks along a line, with regular spaces in between, used for measuring.
- (stewards) People that take care of large areas of land.