As a forest entomologist, I study how native trees interact with the feeding from invasive insects from other countries.

Amy Hill
Forest Entomologist
M.S., West Virginia University
USDA Forest Service scientist

http://www.naturalinquirer.org