

Natural Inquirer: World's Forest Edition
Who or What Am I Game Answers

1. I am the place where a plant or animal naturally grows and lives. Sometimes I can be destroyed or protected. What am I?
A. Habitat
2. I am an imaginary circle around the middle of the Earth. I am at an equal distance from both the North Pole and the South Pole. What am I?
A. Equator
3. Thirteen million hectares of forest are lost every year because of me. During 2000-2005, South America was most affected by me. What am I?
A. Deforestation
4. I am an element. The amount of me held in a tree is equal to about half the tree's removed weight after all water has been removed. What am I?
A. Carbon
5. I know a lot about forests and work closely with scientists. I am the person who provided data to the scientists about my country's forest. Who am I?
A. Correspondent
6. I am the measure of the differences between the types and numbers of living things in a natural area. I am also considered a measure of forest sustainability. What am I?
A. Biological diversity