

No todos los hongos son dañinos

Página 10

Se hace camino al andar

Página 14

Sig la corrie

EL NATURAL INQUI

Octubre de 2000 • Servicio de Agricultura de los Estados

Investigando la naturaleza: Una publicación de investigación

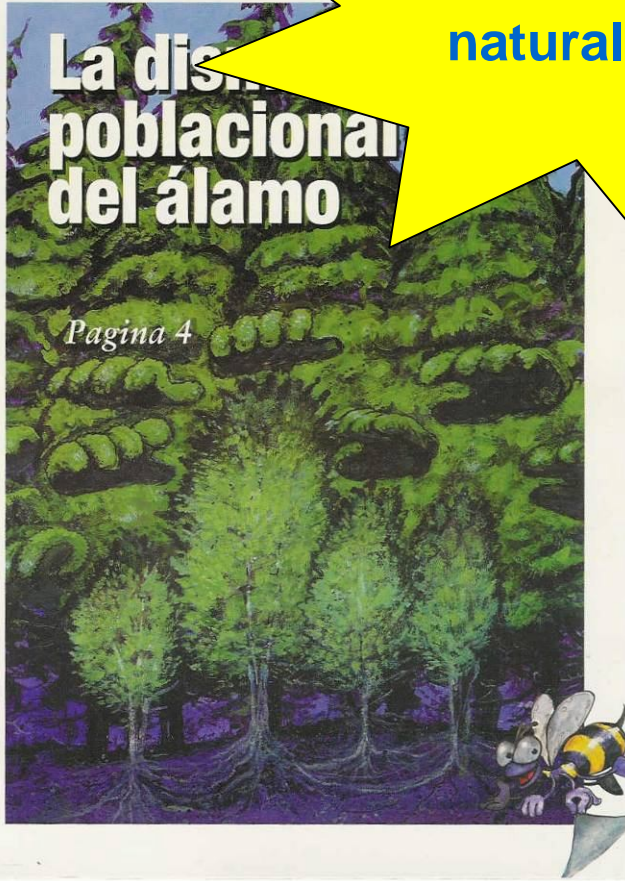

Adaptarse es sobrevivir

Página 18

La distribución poblacional del álamo

Página 4

Página 22

La marta en peligro de extinción

Página 26

¡Vamos cuesta abajo!

Spanish editions are available, and an urban forest edition focuses on “close to home” natural resources for urban students.

We asked you to look for diversity in the NI....

What did you find?

Questions, comments,
suggestions, needs, discussion?

How have YOU used the NI?

Learning Objectives Week 2

Participants will recognize the role culture plays in everyday life.

Participants will explore and understand the role of culture in education settings.

Participants will recognize how they bring their own culture into any given situation.

Learning Objective Week 3

Participants will learn techniques that are easily applied in any educational setting that are culturally sensitive.

Cultural sensitivity and recognition:

A practice by educators who provide responsive instruction to diverse classrooms; recognizing that learning can be facilitated or inhibited for students with differing ethnic or cultural backgrounds due to how information is presented and tasks are conducted.

Session 2:
Tuesday, October 9
1-3 PM EST

